Happy Thanksgiving

It seems as though, many times we are too busy taking care of our normal daily activities and fighting daily fires. We forget to stop and say Thank You for a job well done or to stop and appreciate the many good things we each get to enjoy on a daily basis.

Due to the ongoing pandemic, this year's Thanksgiving Holiday will be different than those of past years. However, the upcoming Thanksgiving Holiday will still give each of us a chance to take a couple days off from work, to relax and to spend time with select family and friends. The Thanksgiving holiday also will allow us to take some time to appreciate the many freedoms and opportunities we each enjoy and have available. Hopefully, Thanksgiving will allow you and I to rededicate ourselves to those things we personally have come to value and treasure. Each of us really does have the opportunity to become a positive force with our families, with our work, within our communities, and with our own personal futures.

Perhaps this year more than ever I feel very fortunate and thankful that we have been able to keep our Valco Team members working full-time and then some and have been able to hire a substantial number of new people, in spite of the pandemic. Luckily, we have not had to close for even a day due to Covid-19. I remain thankful that all of our associates have remained healthy and safe. Please remain vigilant, safe, and smart over the holidays and do not let your guard down.

Valco remains positive and committed to the future of our associates and our community. We can each be very proud of all we have been able to accomplish by working together. We know that any successes and accomplishments we have had this year are the end result of what each and every one of us has done for each other and for our customers.

As we enter the upcoming holiday season, I want to wish each of you and your families the very best. May the new year, 2021, bring you and yours a year of good health, a virus free year, much happiness, and lots of personal and professional success. I look forward to working with each of you in 2021 knowing that by continuing to Work Together the Best is Yet to Come. 🍂

Best Regards,

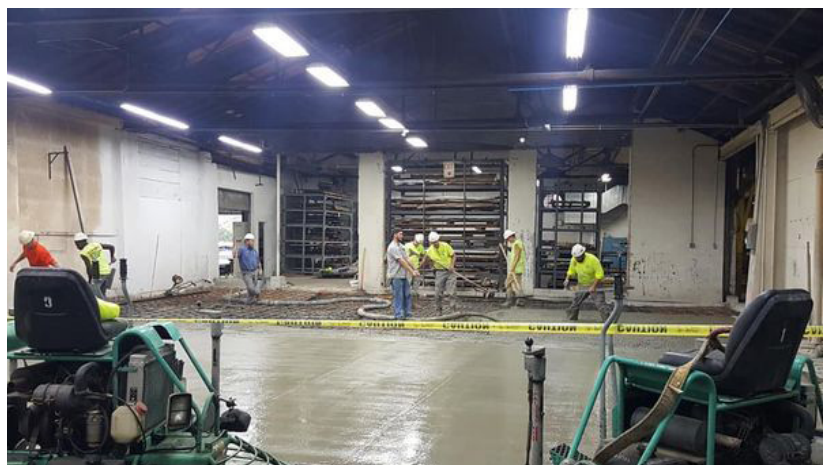

Eddie Leventhal
President
